

MASTER OF Emergency Management

MASTER OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

The Master of Emergency Management course is designed to meet the needs of all sectors of industry, commerce and government who have an interest in emergency risk management asset management and protection. The course furthers the educational and research opportunities of those working in the disciplinary field of risk management (broadly defined).

Students undertake a series of studies of recent advances influencing emergency management and risk management. This is accomplished through a comprehensive literature search and analysis and the examination and analysis of current practices. Students develop their independent study proposals under the guidance of a supervisor and their findings are presented in the form of publishable papers and training/ educational portfolios and reports.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO ENROL?

Applicants who wish to be considered for admission to the course will have to satisfy the following criteria, which will be considered to be the equivalent of a four year degree:

- The successful completion of a three year degree in emergency management, risk management or an allied field;
- At least five years experience in an industry related to this field of study;
- Evidence of continuing professional education and development; and
- Evidence of project management of emergency management issues within their organisation, industry or community.

IS CREDIT AVAILABLE FOR THE COURSE?

Credit may be awarded for appropriate previously completed postgraduate subjects. Applicants are advised to discuss any potential credit applications with the Course Coordinator.

The Graduate Certificate in Applied Management conducted by the Australian Institute of Police Management relates to EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management.

The Graduate Diploma in Executive Leadership, conducted by the Australian Institute of Police Management, relates to EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management and EMG508 Independent Study in Risk Management.

The Graduate Certificate in Emergency Management conducted by Emergency Management Australia relates to EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management.

CONTACTS

Information and application forms for the courses are available by contacting info.csu
Email: inquiry@csu.edu.au
Web: <http://www.csu.edu.au/student/contact>
For specific course information contact the Emergency Management Course Coordinator, Ian Manock
Telephone: +61 2 6338 4907
Email: imanock@csu.edu.au

1300 135 435
inquiry@csu.edu.au

The Graduate Certificate in Social Science (Emergency Services) conducted by the University of Western Sydney relates to EMG 506 Independent Study in Emergency Management.

The Local and Community Level Disaster Risk Management program and the Red Cross / Red Crescent Regional Health in Emergencies Training Workshops conducted by the International Institute for Disaster Risk Management in Manila, Philippines, relates to EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management.

COURSE STRUCTURE

The course consists of four subjects all of which are core subjects; there are no optional or elective subjects. Each subject is a double subject (16 points each). EMG505 and EMG506 are undertaken concurrently in the first year then EMG507 and EMG508 are undertaken concurrently in the second year. Students may elect to exit after the completion of the first two subjects EMG505 and EMG506 with the GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT.

Session 1 EMG505 Readings in Emergency Management (commenced) EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management (commenced)

Session 2 EMG505 Readings in Emergency Management (completed) EMG506 Independent Study in Emergency Management (completed)

Session 3 EMG507 Readings in Risk Management (commenced) EMG508 Independent Study in Risk Management (commenced)

Session 4 EMG507 Readings in Risk Management (completed) EMG508 Independent Study in Risk Management (completed)

The course structure can be manipulated to suit a student receiving credits in two subjects.

