

School of Environmental Sciences Seminar Series

Social Context of Natural Resource Management and Agriculture in India

Dr. Chandrasekaran Karthikeyan

Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, India

Dr. C. Karthikeyan is an Associate Professor of Agricultural Extension with the Centre for Agricultural and Rural Development Studies (CARDS) of the Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore City, India. He has been involved in research on social dimensions of catchment management, technology transfer and evaluation research in Agriculture. Currently joined ILWS of CSU as Endeavour Executive Fellow and working with Prof. Allan Curtis for professional development from June - October 2009.

An overview of the social context of land, water resource management and agriculture in India will be presented in this seminar, followed by researchable issues to be addressed by the social scientists. In this context, his two areas of research, namely; water resource management and agricultural extension in India will be highlighted –

*Project 1: Sustainable Management of Catchment Water in India: Social Perspectives.
Project 2: e-agriculture: An ICT enabled Farming in India*

Wednesday, 22 July 2009

3pm, Rm 205, Bld 751

Charles Sturt University, Thurgoona Campus

CONTACT : Alison Matthews 60519831 for more information