Service Women Looked After at Hostel

Tenter Army Women look forward to moving into a new hostel, which the government and the Army have planned for them.

These women and other members of the women's service expect to get a better place to live in the new hostel.

To the left, the main entrance of the new hostel is seen. The building is surrounded by large trees and has a garden in front.

The hostel will provide accommodation for about 200 women, who have been living in temporary shelters until now.
